Junior student Stuti Vishwabhan received a special Commendation certificate from the San Jose City Council on Tues., August 19th for her efforts with nonprofit organization, Teach Seniors Technology. Inspired by the technological needs of her grandmother, Vishwabhan found TST in 2012, towards the end of her freshman year. Today, her grandmother now runs her very own Facebook page, thanks to Vishwabhan's efforts. Through TST, Vishwabhan along with her team of dedicated 15 volunteers offer weekly tutoring classes for senior citizens at local libraries, including Almaden Branch Library, and will be starting classes at Cambrian Library next month. In the past few months, Vishwabhan has received great support from Councilmember Johnny Khamis and Council Assistant, Rayshelle Brant. Teach Seniors Technology has no doubt made a great contribution to the senior citizen of San Jose, and we wish her the best with the growing impact of her organization.
